

LINE has many years' experience of editing, having edited academic texts such as lectures and doctoral theses for Lund University. By proofreading we mean correcting grammatical errors, spelling, punctuation and hyphenation. To us, editing involves advice on content, style and readability. All changes are clearly marked and suggestions made to improve the flow and the logical structure of the text.